FRIENDSHIP, LOVE, AND TRUTH.

BY ENOS B. REED.

A way-worn traveler, on his weary path,
Beheld three seraphs most divinely fair—
A glory shone from out their azure eyes,
And formed in halos round their golden hair.

The first, sweet Friendship, clad in garments gray,
Thus to the lone and foot-sore traveler spoke:
"If friends you'd have, be true unto yourself—
None friendship gained who e'er this maxim broke."

And then she placed within the traveler's hand
A sacred chain, a solitary link,
Bidding him guard it well where'er he went,
And o'er her words to sometimes pause and think.

Next was Love—her robe of scarlet hue,
Her cheeks with crimson blushes were suffused,
She, too, a link the weary traveler gave—
Her words being few—to talk all unused:
"Love all mankind," she said, or seemed to say,
And then she gathered up her robes and fled,
As if she thought she uttered far too much,
Or what she wished had been left half unsaid.

The third, enrobed in garments dazzling white,
With modest mein, yet firm, was peerless Truth;
No age could dim the lustre of her eye—
For her's the gift of never dying youth.
She took the links from out the traveler's hand,
Which her two sisters but of erst had given,
And joining these unto a third she held,
Declared the tripple link was forged in Heaven.
Then gave it back, all perfect and complete,
And bade the traveler speed him on his way;
Thrice was he blessed, who journeying down life's path,
Had Friendship, Love, and Truth, to cheer his day.

He took the link, and clasped it to his breast,
And journeyed on with heart and spirits light;
And Friendship, Love, and Truth went where he went,
His counselors by day and comforters by night.

Let a young woman with no hair but her own, and that simply dressed enter a room filled with those whose heads are elaborately built up with a profusion of purchased locks, and see who will be most admired. It is a great advantage for a woman, in these days of artifice to remain herself, and thus be unlike every one else. A simple dress, white or black will produce the greatest effect when surrounded by the most gorgeous costumes. These serve, as it were, as frames for the former, and women are often forced to confess that they have draped themselves magnificently at an immense expense for no other purpose than to heighten by contrast the beauty of a rival. In fact, they have been wearing a dress which is very becoming to—others.

In Ireland, landlords are often warned now-a days by finding graves dug in their front yards.

Indulge not at the expense of the slightest article of virtue; pass once its limits, and you fall headlong into vice.

INDEPENDENT.

A blacksmith, shoemaker, tailor, or any other useful mechanic, or other persons following the necessary avocations of life, sell their customers something which they can see and know is value received for their money's value. Not so with the grogseller—his business is a cheat, a delusion, a fraud on the customer, and death to the consumer. Clothing, shoes, iron material which the skill of the smith puts in shape for usefulness, gives the buyer increase in wealth, comfort and convenience—but the sales of the drunkard maker bring misery, wretchedness, want, confusion, rioting, hate and despair to the consumer, and the more he sells to his victims the worse are they off. The more people want of the avails of other and healthful occupations the better are they off. Everything that the farmer produces contributes to the welfare of the race, while everything that the liquor seller produces leads to the misery and want of the users. Who, then, are the benefacters of the people, those numerous classes who by their skill, industry and energy make people better and happier, or those whose business inevitably leads to misery, penury, want, crime and every thing else that is forbidden by the virtuous and exemplary? The dullest can perceive the difference here, and none are so astute as to suborn facts to the advantage in behalf of the ruinous drunkard maker.

Voyage to Europe.—Wm. Bingham, jr., of Pittsburgh, has issued a small work under the above title, in which will be found much to interest and instruct the traveler who contemplates making a visit to Europe. The writes estimates that it will take about $5 a day, gold value, to indulge in this pleasant recreation. Some people might afford that, but the majority will have to be content with remaining at home. McLain & Hunt of Exchange Bank, Massillon, are agents for a line of steamers to Europe.

Some advertisements have more words than ideas, while another class are full of meaning. Of the latter class is that one of Capt. Hoskin, of this place, which appears in another column on this page. The article there indicated, if appreciated according to its merits and general utility, will be one sought after, and is now in high favor with those who avail themselves of its many advantages. It is simple, inexpensive, and requires but little space; and we may safely say that all who have tried it would not be without one.

The Revolution, a weekly paper of 16 pages, published at New York by Susan B Anthony, and edited by Mrs. Stanton, is conducted with much ability. Its speciality is the advocacy of woman suffrage, and both editor, proprietor and correspondents who speak through its columns evince a judgment, power and decision becoming the importance of the reform they have in view. The Revolution was started with a view to win and win it will, no matter how much fogyism may oppose and indifference sneer at the idea of women taking part in governmental matters.

THE NINTH CENSUS.

Another decade has passed—the most eventful in the political history of the country, and hardly less remarkable for the development of our national resources and the accumulation of individual wealth, which have characterized the period. The Government is now making preparations for taking the ninth census; and the nation will look forward with deep interest to the statistical information to be collected and placed on record.

Originally the census was little more than an enumeration of the population, with reference to an apportionment of representation among the several states. The primary object in taking it is still the same, but a secondary and more permanently important purpose in view, is to attain an authentic record of the nation's wealth, progress and resources. Schedules are provided, on which are to be taken:

First—all the dwelling houses in the district, all the families, name of every inhabitant, age, sex, color, trade, occupation, or profession of each male person over fifteen years, value of real estate owned, place of birth of each inhabitant, marriages within the preceding year, number of persons who have attended school, persons over twenty years of age who can read and write, the deaf and dumb, blind, insane, idiotic, paupers and convicts.

Thank God! Schedule No. 2, for which the act of Congress of May, 1850 made provision, is now no longer needed. There is not a slaveholder in the land; there is no record to be made of the manumited or fugitive slave—there are none.

Third—number of acres of land improved and unimproved, with the name of the agent or manager, live stock on hand of the different kinds, produce of the farm of every kind during the year preceding 1st of June, 1870.

Fourth—Products of industry of every kind with the name of manufacturer producing articles in each year of the value of five hundred dollars, name and kind of business, capital invested, raw material used, with statement of qualities, kinds and values, kinds of motive power and machinery, average number of hands employed, wages paid, &c.

Fifth—Aggregate valuation of real and personal estate, aggregate of taxes assessed, colleges, academies, schools, school houses, &c.; libraries, periodicals, newspapers, how often published, number of circlation. Has the season produced average crops? What crops are short? to what extent, and the average crop per year. Average wages of farm hands, of day laborers, with board, without board; of carpenters, female domestics; price of board for laboring men per week; number of churches, of persons each will accommodate; value of church property, with statistics relating to paupers and convicts.

Sixth—Number of deaths during the preceding year, with age, sex, color, domestic condition, place of birth and occupation of deceased, together with the time and cause of death.

It must be manifest that if the census be taken with reasonable accuracy on the schedules above described, the work will present a very full and valuable record of nearly everything relating to the population, property and resources of the country.

The census will not probably bring to light much valuable information as respects the states lately in rebellion. Blackened with the fire of war, agriculture and industrial pursuits have not been prosecuted as in the loyal states. There has been, however, without doubt, a considerable increase of population.

The New England states have advanced steadily in population and the development of manufacturing and commercial wealth. Other states have made only a moderate progress.

But the country as a whole—notwithstanding the depressing influence of four years of dreadful wasteful war, the rigors of necessary war measures, and the frightful evils, political, social and financial war entails—has gone forward with astonishing rapidity. Beyond the Mississippi commonwealths, rising like exhalations from the soil, have been improvised into the family of states. The wilderness in which, a few years ago, the buffalo roamed, has become the abode of civilization. Hardy enterprise has subdued the prairie, hewn down forests, and built cities; has explored the bowels of the earth and found gold, oil, and other hidden treasures; has made the broad surface of the country a net work of railways, and brought the Golden Gate within a six days' journey of the Delaware. In no period of our history as a nation has there been such a remarkable development of mechanical and manufacturing industry. In no former decade has agriculture, our greatest substantial interest made such wonderful progress.

TO TEACHERS OF THE NORMAL AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Readers of the Courier are familiar with the fact that it has been our aim to encourage the system of commercial education for young men in the broadest sense; and, in order to render its advantages more general we have frequently advocated the introduction of special commercial instruction into the public and primary schools. Though it might not be practicable to make such instruction thorough, the elementary principles of commercial science might be learned, so as to give the pupils decided protection and advantage in their future lives, even if they could pursue the study no further, and to lay an excellent foundation for a subsequent matriculation in one of the great business universities of the land, in case they should be able to avail themselves of it.

To further this object practically, the proprietors and management of the Bryant & Stratton Business Institute of Chicago, have cheerfully consented, upon solicitation, to form a teacher's institute during the coming summer vacation, which, besides the usual pleasant and mutually beneficial characteristics of such an association, will offer the special advantage of an insight into the system and principles of a business education. The custom of teacher's institutes has already been found agreeable in social aspects and profitable with reference to the coming school season. The ten weeks vacation of the summer months, affords us, in this way, an opportunity for teachers from all sections to become personally acquainted, for them to compare their respective methods and successes, to discuss their relative districts and secure congenial places during the next year.

But the proposed Business Institute of Chicago, projected and conducted for the teachers themselves, and for them alone, would offer inducements that have never been found in any other of these summer associations. Chief among these new privileges would be that of acquiring a comprehensive knowledge of the principles of business education. It is believed that the advantages of such knowledge are more fully appreciated by teachers than any other class of men. The large faculty and corps of lecturers connected with the Chicago Business University would not only be present as usual, but a special term would be formed, to which only the members of the institute would be admitted, and which would be suited to their convenience. It would be the object to comprehend within this session of ten weeks as much instruction as could be obtained in several months of an ordinary course, a plan rendered feasible by the advanced education of all who would take part in the institute. And to the regular features of such instruction would also be added an able series of lectures on finance, banking, insurance, political economy, commercial law, etc. Penmanship, the art so much neglected in our public schools, and which in this institution is taught in all its purity, will receive special attention in this institute. Able and competent professors will give lectures and blackboard exercises daily.

Nor would this session be made irksome in the least, for the time would be so divided as to render the lectures and instruction constantly fresh and interesting. The facilities for recreation, enjoyment and experience in so large a city as Chicago, would be particularly novel and beneficial for all those who have been accustomed to living in smaller places. And it will add to these attractions to state that the summer can be spent nowhere more cheaply than here. Board can be obtained at very reasonable terms even in the city, and even more so in the numerous and beautiful suburbs of Chicago, such as Hyde Park, Lake View, Evanston and twenty other places which can be reached any hour of the day, in a few minutes, by train, which will enable the participants in the institute to enjoy all the advantages of city experience and the amusements of city life, together with the charms of country life in summer time. The delightful lake breezes, the cool nights and the uniformly pleasant weather which Chicago has in the summer season, have become proverbial and will add materially to the enjoyment of the proposed assembly.

The session of this teacher's business institute would begin, probably, about July 5th. On July 7th the convention of the high school teachers commences in this city, and it is probable that it will be held in one of the large halls of the Bryant & Stratton Business Institute, which has been offered to them for that purpose. The details of this institute will be announced in full, in case sufficient responses are received to justify its establishment, in the June number of the Courier. To this end we would call upon all teachers who read this announcement to communicate at their earliest convenience, with L. A. Chase, P. O. box No. 5,894.

The expenses of the session would be very light to each individual, and the advantages, a part of which only have been enumerated, would be very great. On this account, the teachers ought to make up an institute that would number 500 members, for it may be long before another such an opportunity presents itself. We would also respectfully ask our exchanges, and all the journals throughout Illinois and the west, to reprint this article, or to call prominent attention to the purpose, as it is for the common good of the teachers, and in the common cause of education, we are confident that all will be glad to make the project well known.—Chicago Courier.

THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA.

On the 24th day of February the 'borrowed' steamship Aroostook, with Charles and J. S. Lougee, practical and experienced divers from San Francisco, went to where the Onedia lies in 133 feet water. After the usual preparations had been concluded, and, by sounding it had been ascertained that the deck of the Onedia was 103 feet beneath the surface of the bay; after every caution had been given to eight strong sailors to keep the air pump constantly in motion, and allow not an instant of time of stoppage to occur, as thereby depended the life of the bold diver; after Charley Lougee had been helmeted and shut from air except that supply through the slender tube of coiled rubber, with a life-line around his body and leaden clogs to his feet, with "Good-bye" and "God bless you" from all aboard, he was dropped over the side, and slowly disappeared in the blue waves, while a nervous tremor shot through our frame as we realized the fearful risk undertaken by that man who was seeking for truth in over one hundred feet of water.

Away at the leeward, borne by the tide and wind, came floating bubbles to the surface—life signals from below. The men at the pump were laboring manfully, but becoming fatigued, attempted to change for fresh hands, and there was a stop. "Great God! you will murder my brother! Quick! for Heaven's sake, quick." And as the men recommenced the revolutions of the air pump, the elder Lougee, with blanched face and trembling lip, gave the signal on the life-line below. For an instant there came no response, and the face of that brother seemed to turn to marble; but then we saw two quick motions from the submarine station and knew it was the welcome signal of 'all right,' and then Lougee turned to the men at the wheel, who came so near sending both below, and simply said, "My only brother's life depends upon your keeping that pump in motion—stop again at your peril." The calm face and passionate eye told those men not to stop again, and with Lieut. Tanner close by, they kept at work until stopped by orders from Lougee.

Meantime, while we were on the deck of that 'sand-pan,' counting the tedious moments which lengthened to half an hour, Charley Lougee was searching the Onedia at the tremendous depth mentioned. At last came the signal for 'surface,' and instantly the life-line was put in motion; slowly came the coiling hemp and rubber on deck, and at last, away in the deep blue waves, came the diver, shrouded and panoplied in wierd garments. As he came to the surface he reached Minister DeLong a sword and a lacquered box, and then was his helmet loosed, and our party crowded around to hear of the gallant ship. Among our party were many of the survivors of the Onedia; among them were William Crowninshield, Capt. Clark, Master, Yates, and Dr. James Sudard, who were intensely excited to learn the tidings.

Said the diver: "The water for the first seventy feet was quite clear, as the sun gave excellent light, and although my supply of air was once choked for an instant, I reached the deck of the ship just astern the mizzen mast, and close by the mess-room hatch; the tide was ebbing quite strong and I was compelled to hold to lines from the rigging to keep from being swept forward. I first examined the side of the ship; she was cut from the mizzen rigging (at an angle of about forty degrees) across the whole stern of the ship timbers, far below the water-line, being crushed and broken, the captain's cabin cut in two, the wheel and steering gear all carried away, and, in fact, the whole side and end of the ship, stove in or cut away. The ship is heading southwest, and sits upright on the bottom, and is making land slowly. I laid down on the deck and peered over the broken end into the cabin, but did not dare trust my air line in contact with the jagged timbers. The guns and armament, except one, are all in place aft; but I did not go forward, as I was afraid of an entanglement in the rigging." Turning to Crowninshield, he said: "Your evidence, which I read, described almost exactly the injury, except that she was cut deeper than you could have known." Lougee expressed the belief that it will be impracticable to raise the ship, but that the splendid battery, personal effects, &c., can be saved if the government sees proper.

A WONDERFUL REPAIR SHOP.

In a deep, damp, dark dungeon writes a lady, I saw a man chained to the cold, slimy stone floor. His largest liberty was three steps back and forth. That ugly clanking chain never by any possibility allowed him to go further; and all day long, and sometimes all night for so many mournful years, the weary, naked foot had fallen on the same hard spot on that pitiless stone, and had worn into it a deep hollow; yes, the solid stone had been worn away, but not the soft skin of that unhappy prisoner's foot. It gave no sign of wearing out. The stone was dead matter, and when a portion of it, ever so infinitesimally small, was worn away, there was no power to replace it. The sole of the foot was a living thing. It wore away faster, much faster, than the most solid stone; but as soon as one particle was displaced another was deposited in its stead; as when a soldier falls in a front rank of battle his brave comrade from the rear takes his position, and the line remains always full. This particle supplied to the worn foot is brought to it in the blood, which circulates to every pin point of the body, but that particle is supplied from the food eaten. Hence, we not only eat for purposes of warmth and growth, but we eat for repair.

All the machinery the most perfect piece of mechanism which ever came from human hands, will wear out, because there is friction. Its cogs, its wheels, its bearings, its axels, and its cylinders all move upon one another, more or less directly. Such motion implies friction, and friction causes loss of substance necessarily. Millions of money are expended every year for the purchase of oils and other lubricants, to lessen the tremendous wear and waste in the running of our locomotives, the trains on our railroads, and the machinery of our numberless mills and manufactories. But the living human body came from the hands of the Infinite One. It is the perfection of mechanism, and has within itself the power of growth and development; and more, it makes its own repairs and provides its own lubricants; works incessantly, day and night, summer and winter, seed time and harvest, for a hundred years. It never stops, it never wears out, until the work is completed for which it was made, and the master builder bids it run no more! It is made of its hundreds of muscles, and bands, and sockets, and hinges, and pulleys, and playing upon or dragging across each other. The very smallest of these motions involves waste, indeed, not a single crook of the finger, not a bend of the arm, not a twinkle of the eye, not a thought of the brain, but is at the expense of some solid portion of the human machine; and yet at the end of a century, it remains a whole in all its parts, while the most perfect constructions of man come to a dead stop in a very few months, and would stand still forever, unless some new cog, or pin, or pulley was supplied.—Hall's Journal of Health.

ANCIENT DIVISIONS OF THE DAY.

The Chaldeans, Syrians, Persians, and Indians begin the day at sunrise, and divided both the day and night into four parts. This division of the day into quarters was in use long before the division into hours.

The Chinese, who begin their day at midnight, and reckon on the midnight following, divide this interval into twelve hours, each equal to two of ours, and known by a name and particular figure.

In Egypt the day was divided into unequal hours. The "clock" invented by Ctesibius, of Alexandria, B. C. 250, was so contrived as to lengthen or shorten the hours by the flowing of water.

The Greeks divided the natural day into twelve hours; a practice derived from the Babylonians.

The Romans called the time between the rising and setting sun, the natural day; and the time in the twenty-four hours, the civil day. They began and ended their civil day at midnight, and took this practice from their ancient laws and custom, and rites of religion, in use long before they had any idea of the division into hours.

The first sun dial seen at Rome was brought from Catania, in Sicily, in the First Punic War, as part of the spoils of that city; and after this period they divided the day into twenty-four hours. An officer, called Accensus, used to proclaim the hours; and at the bench of justice gave notice every three hours what it was o'clock.

In the Turkish empire time is reckoned by certain portions of the natural day, resembling the 'watches' of the ancient Jews and Romans. Public clocks not being in use, these divisions of time are proclaimed from the minarets.

HADN'T JINEE 'EM YET.

We heard a good thing recently that every member of the Free and Accepted Masons will be apt to have a good laugh over, and for that we send it out on its travels:

A rather verdant young man, whose features exhibiting every symptom of having been slightly tinged with emerald, quite recently entered a jewelry store in New York, and gazing earnestly into the show case remarked:

'You've got a heap of mighty pretty breast pins thar, mister, what moughty ye tax for 'em?'

'What sort of a pin would you like to look at?' inquired the merchant.

'Well, dunno!' said the visitor, pointing to a plain Masonic pin, (the compass and square), 'how much is that yere?'

'Five dollars only, sir, was the reply. 'Its a very fine pin, eighteen carat gold, and—'

'You haven't got ary one with a little gold hand saw laid across it, hev you?' interrupted the would be purchaser.

'I believe not, sir, said the merchant.

'Wish yer had, it would suit me exactly. I'm just out of my time, and gwine to set up as carpenter and jiner, and I thought I'd like some sort of a sign to wear about me, so folks would have an idea who I was. What do you tax for that ar pin you've got yer hand on?'

'Seven dollars,' said the merchant, producing a compass and square surrounding the letter G.

'Seven dollars, eh!' said the youth, 'I'll take it—sorry yer did n't have the hand saw, though. But I reckon everybody will understand it. The compass to measure out the work, and the square to see its all right after its done measured, and every darn fool orter know that G allus stands for Gimlet!'

THE OCCUPATION OF ANIMALS.

Bees are great geometricians; their cells are so constructed as, with the least quantity of material, to have the largest sized spaces and least possible loss of interstice; so, also, is the antlion; his funnel shaped trap is exactly correct in its conformation, as if it had been made by the most skillful artist of our species, with the aid of the best instruments. The mole is a meteorologist. The torpedo, the ray and the electric eel are electricians. The nautilus is a navigator; he raises and lowers his sail, casts and weighs his anchor, and performs other nautical revolutions. Whole tribes of birds are musicians. The beaver is an architect, builder, and wood cutter; he cuts down trees, and erects houses and dams. The marmot is a civil engineer; he not only builds houses, but constructs aqueducts and drains to keep them dry. The white ants maintain a regular army of soldiers. The East India ants are horticulturists; they make mushrooms, upon which they feed their young. Wasps are paper manufacturers. Caterpillars are silk spinners. The bird, ploceus textor, is a weaver; he weaves a web to make his nest. The primia, is a tailor; he sews the leaves together to make his nest. The squirrel is a ferryman; with a chip or a piece of bark for a boat, and his tail for a sail, he crosses a stream. Dogs, wolves, jackals, and many others, are hunters. The black bear and heron are fishermen. The ants have regular day laborers. The monkey is a rope-dancer. The association of beavers presents us a model of republicanism. The Indian antelopes furnish an example of patriarchal government, Elephants exhibit an aristocracy of elders. Wild horses are said to select their leaders. Speep, in a wild state are under the control of a military chief ram.

Massillon, Wednesday, May 25.

CONGRESS.—There are some three hundred and more gentlemen at Washington city who seem to be busy in constructing, re constructing, repealing or unmaking laws for some forty millions of people. They have already done many good things in that line, and some things not quite so good. To keep the run of their doings requires the frequency of the daily paper, so our weekly efforts fail to tell all about what they are driving at. Among the misdeeds of these gentlemen, in our estimation, is appropriating millions of acres of land to the use of corporations. This is robbing the mass of the people of their public inheritance, so far as legislation can do it, and giving the earth on which we all live, into the power of a few, and that of the wealthy class. It is unjust and unrighteous legislation, and will one day in the future, if it is carried out, bring trouble.

Among the good things going on in that body are the enactment of laws for the abolition of grogshops in the District of Columbia, and for enforcing the requirements of the fifteenth amendment in all the states, where it is possible or probable that opposition may be made. The humiliating scenes of intemperance too often witnessed in members of congress, of the different parties, makes such a stringent prohibitory law a necessity, on the grounds of self preservation; while in many localities, even in the northern states there is a manifest disposition to override the requirements of that amendment which gives all equal rights at the ballot box.

One of the latest movements of importance by congress is an agreement to adjourn on the 15th of July. The tariff question, a subject full of endless complications, has been postponed for final action at some future time—if ever such a period arrives.

For many months the different conferences of the M. E. church of this country have been taking votes on the question of lay delegation, and that part of the programme is about through, all the annual conferences having expressed themselves on the issue. It needed a majority of three fourths of the ministry to effect the change proposed, and the vote was 4,906 ayes to 1,634 nays—carried by just one vote according to this authority. In 1828 this question was brought up in that church, but not quite in its present shape. Parties took sides in the debate, and the reform did not succeed, but the controversy resulted in a division of the church, and in this movement the Methodist Protestant church had its origin. Part of the object of that change was, to do away with the episcopacy as well as to secure lay delegation. The late movement, however, which commenced in earnest about 1860, so far as we can see, dont affect the episcopacy—that feature remains.

"The Dutch have taken Holland" is an old expression, but the newest phase it appears in is, that the democracy have taken New Holland, known sometimes as Gotham, but in our vernacular called New York. A sort of of mock election was held there lately where repeaters served their party by voting several times each, and achieving some 30,000 or 60,000 majority in that pure city, for the whisky and repudiation party. The best thing about it is, it gives the small fry of the party through the country a chance to show their dilapidated shanghais, and relieves them from one week's howl against the fifteenth amendment. It is as soothing to them as a dose of catnip tea for a sick baby.

First of June Convention.—Let it be kept before the people that the friends of political temperance are to meet at Columbus on the first of June for the purpose of nominating candidates for several state offices, and transacting such other business as may come up before them for consideration. As many as sympathise with the movement are cordially invited to attend. and although none of the friends of this cause are so sanguine as to expect immediate success, they are bound to labor so that victory some day, and that before many years, will perch on the glorious banner of sobriety. There is no use in being timid on this question—it will have to be met—it wont be put down—and we must all take sides on the great issues it involves.

A violent thunder storm accompanied with heavy rain visited this place on Monday, and there was a small sprinkle of hail intermingled, but not sufficient to do any damage. In other places we hear that the hail was more destructive.

Smith, Bowman & Co., are prepared to fill any order in their line in the way of tinware, and of stoves they have a vast number of the best in the market, and are prepared to supply any demand on their resources.

The N. Y. Tribune is a paper acknowledged on all hands as one conducted with superior ability, and wields a vast influence in both state and national affairs. It has a prestige, a fame, for being a reformatory, progressive agency, and many are the sturdy and effective blows it has dealt in favor of equal rights, when that state of politics was very unpopular in our country; and the editor, Mr. Greeley, has been slandered and abused as one of the most crochety sort of men, but the main charge against him is, that he favors all sorts of movements called reforms. If this is the case it looks to us as if he is, fox like, crossing his own tracks just now to elude the vigilance of his pursuers. The smooth, round pate, and child-like face whereby the pictures represent him, must have a hidden angle or knob somewhere, for the course of the Tribune on the woman question—provided that Mr. Greeley's sentiments are there represented, which we doubt—are entirely contrary to his reputation which, as a writer of thirty years standing he has established. All sorts of sneers and sophistries are common in the columns of that paper, not only one day in a month, but six days in a week, against the woman's rights movement. Sharp and sarcastic as the writer may regard these flings they are wholly destitute of argument, and are based on prejudice, or if possible on foundations still more shallow. In fact every objection we have seen in this noted paper against the woman movement has been ten thousand times refuted in its own columns on cognate questions, especially that of slavery in its effect on the people. It does look to us as if somebody else is using the columns of the Tribune to promulgate doctrines which Mr. Greeley has always combatted to the best of his abilities.

SUICIDE.—On the morning of the 18th inst., (last Wednesday) the body of a dead man was found in the cemetery, having a revolver in one of his hands. Examination was made under direction of the coroner, in presence of a jury, by Dr. Curtis, and it was found that the person came to his death by his own hand. He first shot himself in the breast, but the ball not doing its work of death he sent another into his head, which, of course, accomplished the object intended. Dr. C. did not find anything wrong with heart or lungs, or any of the vital parts in the breast—could not find whether the ball penetrated the flesh so as to produce a deadly result in anyway. The name of the young man who thus made way with himself was Wm. Hartlif, about 21 years of age, and a native of Europe. He was described by those who knew him as rather weak minded, and given to intemperance considerably. What the nature of the trouble was that brought on this rash act is unknown, to the public, though there are various stories as to its theory.

MR. GARRETT, president of the Baltimore, Pittsburg and Continental railroad, passed along here last Saturday, in a special car, on his way to Cincinnati, to confer with other railroad men as to matters connected with such enterprises in which they are interested. He excited considerable interest at Canton, and was the observed of a large crowd at the depot, where he made a few remarks. The question of our county seat neighbors is, whether this proposed road will pass them, or run away off from them to some other point. Its location is not yet settled, but will be decided on when the high chiefs get ready. They will pay some respect to people who want the road in their vicinity, as long as the route is not defined, but when they come to select the location they will be their own judges as to how much attention they will pay to these claims upon them.

Among the permanent and we may say elegant residences in our city is the new dwelling of Mr. N. S. Russell on Prospect street. Although in an unfinished state there are many things about it to challenge the admiration of the visitor. It is built in the most substantial manner, and will be finished in elegant style, while every convenience will be combined that modern improvement can suggest or necessity require. The plastering which is done by Mr. John Coleman, makes the walls and ceilings present a finished appearance, and look as elegand and smooth, as if made of marble. No whitewashing is needed. Everything else about the premises is to correspond, for skilled workmen are employed in every branch of house finishing.

One of the most substantial residences now in progress of erection is that of Capt. H. Everhart, on Main st. The walls are of stone; and are now rising above the second story. When completed this residence will probably equal anything in the way of a dwelling house, for solidity, that is to be found in this vicinity.

The truth is, in taking a stroll about town it is difficult to get out of sound of the mason's or carpenter's tools, for they are in active operation everywhere. Massillon is not yet ready to be fenced in.

To the numerous improvements in and about the Zielley House the proprietor has added a nice music stand, where the people can be regaled with the harmonies produced by bands or others who may discourse sweet sounds.

Although the manufacturer of soap was burned out a short time since, at Fulton, he informs us that he expects soon to be prepared to commence business again. It is his design to have in the market all the useful varieties of this indispensable article. Such enterprise can't be stopped long, even by fire. Somebody has well said that soap and civilization go together, and it is so.

The appraiser of real estate in this city Mr. A. J. Humberger, we understand, is almost through with his arduous task, and soon will be prepared to report the result. Since the previous appraisment it is surprising to see, how property has advanced in value. The aggregate value of real estate in the city did not much exceed one million of dollars, but now it is over two millions or more than doubled the last ten years. It is of no use to croak for this evidence of prosperity is clearly in favor of the right side.

Mr. Killinger is actively at work at his marble establishment, where he has a number of skillful mechanics engaged in filling orders for customers. No trouble in getting work as long as a man does it right.

Gen. Wm. Knapp, who has supervision of the military affairs of Ohio, is now at home on a visit to his relatives and numerous friends in this place. Commencing the world by his own efforts it is creditable to Gen. K. that he has been successful in making his way into a high and responsible position and that thus far he has been sustained by those who have the power of conferring such favors.

The Fourth of July is coming, but nobody seems to be getting ready to welcome or celebrate the day. But very few weeks intervene until that day will be with us, and if anything is to be done it is quite time to be making preparations.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Wednesday Ev'g, May 18, 1870.

Regular meeting—Members all present.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

Mr. Crone reported an ordinance altering the boundaries of Wards numbered 3 and 4. Ordinance read first time and filed with the orders of the day.

On motion of Mr. Ruchti an order was drawn on the treasury for $2732,84 to pay the claim in the case of Clement Russell, plaintiff vs City of Massillon, defendant; the vote upon the payment being as follows—Yeas 5—G L Russell, Chas London, Ferdinand Ruchtie and Geo. Bollinger. Nays 3—S, A. Conrad, J. H. Ogden and Frank Crone.

The Board of City Improvements were granted permission to improve Cherry street as recommended. The Board was also instructed to report to the council the probable cost of improving Oak, Promenade and North streets.

Mr. Ogden moved that the subject matter in reference to the erection of a city prison be referred to a special committee of three. The President announced the following named gentlemen as said committee—John H. Ogden, Frank Crone and Chas. London.

The Great Medical Discovery!

Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

More than 500,000 persons bear testimony to their curative effects.

For Female Complaints, whether in old or young, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these tonic bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

What are They?

They are a gentle purgative as well as tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving congestion or inflamation of the liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

THEY ARE NOT A

VILE FANCY DRINK

Made of poor rum, whisky, proof spirits, and refuse liquor, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called tonics, appetizers, restorers, &c., that lead the tipler on to drunkeness and ruin, but are a true medicine made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all alcoholic stimulant.

They are the great blood purifier and life giving principle, a perfect renovater and invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell.

$100 will be given for an incurable case provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For inflamatory and chronic rheumatism, and gout, dyspepsia, or indigestion, bilious remittent, and intermittent fevers, disease of the blood, liver, kidneys and bladder, these bitters have been most successful. Such diseases are caused by vitiated blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the digestive organs.

Cleanse and vitiate blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when you find it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, tape, and other worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

In bilious, remittent and intermittent fevers, these bitters have no equal. For full directions read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

"We, the Druggists of Massillon, call the attention of our customers to the letters published below of the wonderful efficacy of Dr Roback's Stomach Bitters, Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Purifier, and Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Blood Pills. We have been selling these medicines long enough to know that they are all they are recommended to be, and that the certificates of cures published are true.

ATHENS, ATHENS Co., O., August 10, 1859.

DR. C. W. ROBACK,

Dear Sir:—Permit me to say in relation to your Scandinavian Blood Pills and Blood Purifier, that I have used several boxes and bottles, and have found their effects on my system to be all that is claimed for them in your advertisements. I have also seen the effects of your Pills upon a child four or five years old, in expelling worms from the bowels.—One dose given the child, confined to the bed, and apparently very sick, caused the worms to come away from it in great numbers, and they were found crawling and scattered all about. The child thus relieved recovered immediately, and is now well and hearty.

Yours, &c.

ORE MINERS WANTED.—A number of good ore miners can find steady employment in the mines of the Brady's Bend Iron Company, Brady's Bend, Armstrong County, Pa. 360-4t

MAY TERM.—Court of common pleas for Stark county opened yesterday morning, Judge Frease presiding. Grand jury called —Peter Everhart, foreman. Full attendance of suitors, witnesses, members of the bar and others. Calender of cases unusually long. First case assigned to petit jury was Myers et al. vs. City of Canton.

Two men were arrested at Loudonville, yesterday on charge of throwing the train off the track near that place, on Saturday night. Names, John Lugton and W. W. Gage—the latter confesses the crime.

If you want to buy muslins by the piece Humberger & Son will give you a liberal discount from the yard price.

Hardy & Wilson's Dramatic Troupe, we are informed, has disbanded.

James B. Estep invites attention to positive bargains in many lines of dry goods and small wares.

Mr. F. Warthorst, an enterprising and prosperous citizen of this place, about a year ago left here on a visit to his fatherland, in Europe, and returned safely and in good health on last Saturday. The visit was no doubt a pleasant one, and will long be remembered by Mr. W. and his wife, who returned with him.

White and colored carpet chain, the best and cheapest in town, to be found at Ricks'.

At the regular meeting of the city council last week the question of settling Mr. Clement Russell's claim of $2,700 and upward was brought up, and the requisite majority sustained the motion. Very early the following day measures were matured for serving an injunction on the proceedings, which, as we understand it, leaves the case in court for future action.

Humberger & Son are selling dress goods cheap, call and be convinced.

White and scarlet shetland shawls very cheap at Ricks'.

Bro. V. P. Wilson, formerly connected with the papers of New Philadelphia, is now away off at a new town called Abilene, in Kansas, where he publishes a spirited paper called the Abilene Chronicle. The advertising columns of this new paper indicate business, and it must be a place of some importance; for there is where an excursion train is going which started from Alliance on yesterday, taking passengers all the way west.

Go to Humberger & Son's and buy a cheap carpet, they are selling them at very low prices.

Ricks' are selling cassimeres cheaper than ever sold before the war, call and see their stock before purchasing elsewhere.

The impression is current, and seems to be based on good authority that auditors are not to be elected this fall—that the present incumbents hold over until November, 1871. A member of the board of equalization, however, has to be elected—Stark and Carroll forming a district.

ANOTHER "QUEEN OF SONG."

The Mendelssohn Quintette Club, who are to give one of their grand, classical and miscellaneous concerts at the Opera House on the evening of Wednesday, May 25th, announce, that upon that occasion they will be assisted by Miss Jenny Busk, the new prima donna who has made such a furore in both Europe and the eastern states. The magnificent playing of the club, should in itself be sufficient to draw a large audience in any civilized city, but with this added attraction we must expect them to receive an overwhelming 'benefit' from our citizens. Miss Busk has graduated with the highest honors, from the conservatories of Paris and Leipzig, and before coming to this country, was already famous in Europe for the magnificent richness of her voice, its extraordinary compass and the wonderful accuracy to which it had been trained. It is not too much to say of her that she is possessed of one of the purest, clearest and highest soprano voices now upon the concert stage, and we anticipate with pleasure her advent among us.

SUN PICTURES.—Mr Tremaine had on exhibition at the Opera House, a vast variety of representations called sun pictures, on Monday and Tuesday evenings. The house was well filled with spectators, all of whom appeared to be pleased with what was presented. A large number of scenes in foreign countries, and especially those in what is denominated the Holy Land, seemed to add much to the interest of the exhibition. These pictures are full of instruction, and it is presumed give the spectator a good idea of the subjects they represent. Persons, houses, palaces, cities, rivers, seas, hills, mountains, pyramids, statuary, pre-Adamite remains, and other classes of objects were exhibited on the screen with a vividness almost life-like.

Russell & Co. have commenced building their large establishment at Canton, opening the work one day last week in presence of a large number of people.

From all accounts that we can gather the prospect for a fruit crop in this part of the country is unusually good: The trees everywhere hold out great promises in the shape of blossoms.

In consequence of a smaller breedth of grain being sown last fall than the year previous, there will not be as large a grain harvest as last year witnessed, but from all we can learn the prospect is most flattering that it will be prolific in proportion to the amount sown. Clover and other grasses also are magnificent, and promise an abundant yield at the proper time.

More than seven years ago when we commenced business here in the way of job printing, before the Independent was begun, we adopted and have ever since carried it out, the practice of preserving a copy of every job printed in the office. Some may regard the practice as an absurd one or at least a useless one, but let that be as it may we expect to keep it up, and have now on hand a record in that shape which may be of practical use to somebody hereafter. Among a large variety of work in this line are a considerable number of calls for volunteers during the years of the terrible conflict. Then there are political, business, social and a vast variety of other records in this shape, all which, the older they become the more they will be appreciated.

Sheep shearing will soon begin if it has not already opened the present season. The hot weather must make the sheep's warm coats a burden, of which to be rid of would be a relief. Wool will soon be in the market.

Mr. Conrad has been setting some of our citizens a good example by renewing the pavement and gutter in front of his store.

Rev. Wm. Lynch, formerly of this place, but now of Salem, has been invited to address our people on decoration day, the 30th inst. We have not heard whether he has accepted the invitation.

The Odd Fellows of Stark county propose holding an anniversary celebration on the 9th prox., at Alliance, in commemoration of the first lodge instituted in the county. A large assembly of the brotherhood is anticipated.

The young men who are engaged in getting up a reading room we presume will soon be ready to open out and receive visitors. If properly conducted—and that is the way they design carrying it on—it cannot help but be a prosperous institution.

The project for the Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Continental railroad, is one which is engaging the attention of a great number of the people of this region. The routes at present contemplated commences near Smith's Ferry on the Ohio river, and runs through the counties of Columbiana, Stark, Carroll, Tuscarawas, Holmes and Richland, and westward to the state line. Engineers have been on the route and claim for it peculiar advantages in the matter of distance, besides vast mineral resources.

During the late run of exhibitions which appeared in the Opera House, there was an increasing disposition manifested to rowdyism, which broke out at intervals in the shape of stamping, and that unearthly whistling always so annoying to well-bred people, and so distasteful where good manners should prevail. The proprietors of this elegant hall had printed a few notices, which were placed all around the walls, forbidding demonstrations of such a boistrous nature, and since then there has been much better order—that stamping has almost entirely ceased, and yet people express their approval quite as appreciatingly, and in a more genteel way. This is a token of improvement which all good people will hail with delight.

DECORATION DAY.—The demonstration on Monday next, in commemoration of the fallen braves of this vicinity, from present indications, bids fair to be a success. The invitations the G. A. R. post so cordially extended to other orders, we understand are accepted, and if they all turn out in force, accompanied by many of our citizens, the occasion will be one of which Massillon and vicinity may well be proud. The season of flowers at that time will be at its hight, and there will be no difficulty in securing abundance of these emblems of peace, purity and beauty. We have not been advised at this writing as to whether business men will close their places for a few hours on that day, but presume they will do so, in order to participate in the patriotic services required to observe the day.

Notwithstanding it is with considerable inconvenience that our people can reach or get here from the terminus of the new railroad, we are informed that not a day passes but what a goodly number of passengers are at hand, early in the morning to go to Cleveland, and in the evening a like number return. So that thus far the road is a success, despite of the complaint somebody chooses to make in papers far away from here, which is gladly echoed by those who envy Massillon's prosperity. The most exacting must concede that the road even with all its disadvantages, is much better than none; and if with these drawbacks it is of some use now in the beginning, time will render it a useful, compensating, and ultimately an indispensable medium of communication. The company has commenced building a turntable at the junction.

Testimonials.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Jan. 8, 1870.

Russell & Co., Massillon, O.

GENTLEMEN—In reply to your inquiry about the Combined Reapitg and Mowing Machine bought of your Fort Wayne agent, I will say that I am well-pleased with it. I have used the "Buckeye" for several years, and have seen all the machines used in this county, and would not exchange the Russell for any other machine in this locality. It is a good mower, light draught, turns easy, is strong and durable, and is the best reaper especially in down and lodged grain, that I have ever seen. I can cheerfully recommend it to others.

Yours
SOLOMON SIMON.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 17, 1870.

Russell & Co., Massillon, O.

GENTLEMEN—I take pleasure in saying that the Combined Reaping and Mowing Machine, that I bought of your agent at Fort Wayne, is without exception the best machine I ever saw. It mows well, is easy to handle, and as a reaper it can't be beat, especially in down grain. I cut wheat that could not be cut by other machines and took it up clean.

Yours
FRANCIS GIBSON.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 1870.

Russell & Co., Massillon, O.

I have had and used one of your combined Reaping and Mowing Machines for two years; have used others, but would not exchange for any other machine in use, as it runs light, has no side draught, no weight on the horses' necks, no backing to do on the corners, turns easily and finally, does its work better than any other I have seen.

Yours. JUDIES ALEXANDER.

MARCALOS, Ill., March 1, 1870.

This is to certify, that I bought last summer of J. M. Smith & Co., at Quincy, Ill., one of Russell & Co's, Reaper and Mowers, and will here state, it gave me perfect satisfaction in every particular, both in reaping and mowing. Yours,
JOHN W. LATHIN.

COLES CORNERS, Ind., Jan. 20, 1870.

Russell & Co., Massillon, O:

Gentlemen—You want to know how I like my Russell Threshing Machine, bought of your agent at Ft. Wayne, in the season of 1869. I think with the late improvements it has no equal, with the double fan, adjustable concave, and extra shaker it is complete I have threshed for 21 years, but never seen a machine that could compete with the Improved Russell's for fast threshing, perfect cleaning, and saving of grain, and after that experience I don't expect to.

Yours truly, OLIVER DAVIS.

PRINCETON, Mille Lacs Co, Minn., March 21st, 1870.

H. Ruble, North McGregor, Iowa:

Dear Sir—Having purchased (with Mr. J. Philbrick) last fall, of your agents at St Paul, Messrs. Brownell & Co., one of your No 2½ Improved Massillon Threshers, I will say it gives perfect satisfaction both as a thresher and cleaner. In short, I consider it the best thresher I ever used, or saw used. The adjustable concave, revolving shoe rake and fan, are practical and valuable improvements. I would fully recommend it to all who desire to purchase a very superior machine:

MARTIN V. B. CARTER.

WOODSTOCK, Mich., Jan. 1. 1870.

Russell & Co., Massillon, O:

Gents—I have run threshing machines of different style and manufacture for over seventeen years. Last fall I bought of your agent at Jackson, Mich., one of your Improved No. 2½ Threshers and Separators, and am highly pleased with it, so much so that I am willing to bet all I am worth, that it will do more and better work than any other machine manufactured.

GEORGE COOLY.

I have worked with my brother all fall, am an old thresher, and must say, his machine is superior to any machine I have ever seen or used. M. COOLY.

LIBERTY, Jackson Co. Mich., Jan. 22, 1870.

Russell & Co., Massillon, O.

GENTS—This last season I bought of your agent in Jackson, Mich., one of your No. 2½ Separators with Double Fan Complete. I have threshed thirty thousand bushels of grain, without one cent worth of repairs, and in every instance given entire satisfaction to my customers. I consider your Carey Power the best in use.

Respectfully, Yours,
WM. H. MALOST.

WATERTOWN, Wright Co., Minn., March 14th, 1870.

Gould & Co., Agents, Minneapolis Minn.

The Massillon or Russell Improved Thresher you sold us certainly surpasses any machine ever used in these parts for quantity any quality of work, and ease of draft. Farmers want us next year, where we threshed the past season. We made more than its entire cost, and it does not seem injured in the least by wear. "Massillon" for us every time. PETER BORK.

Sarsaparillian RESOLVENT.

NEW PRINCIPLES OF CURE.

Of all Wasting, Scrofulous, and Eruptive Diseases of the Eyes, Nose, Mouth, Throat, Ears, Head, LUNGS, Kidneys, Bladder.

THE SKIN MADE PURE, CLEAR, SMOOTH, AND BEAUTIFUL.

DR. RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT Establishes a new principle of Cure of all Chronic diseases; and, more than to the medical world that Consumption and other Scrofulous diseases are curable. This fact has been demonstrated in over where one Lung in over seventy cases was destroyed and dried up, and in over 500 CASES OF SUSPECTED CONSUMPTION.

ONE HUNDRED CASES OF CONFIRMED CONSUMPTION

DR. RADWAY, three years since, published to the world his analysis of the Blood in the several states of CONSUMPTION, showing in every case, that where tubercles become deposited in the lungs and other organs, in the form of tubercles, Lung Spleen, Bronchial Glands, Indicating establishing Consumption of those organs, the BLOOD is thin, weak pale, watery, and is deficient of such constituents as fibrin Albumen, Phosphates, and the rich red coloring disks of the Blood Corpuscles. In the absence of these constituents in the Blood, the Blood is exhausted of strength and nutrition, and consequently is in a diseased condition, and cannot support the system. Tubercles, Scrofulous Tumors, Cancers, and Virulent Ulcerations are formed, the presence of which causes inflammation, gathering, and consequent suppuration.

This, reader, is the true cause of the formation of Tubercles, and Consumption. Dr. RADWAY was the first to advance this theory of the cause of Consumption and its hundred diseases, and prepared the RADWAY'S RESOLVENT to supply the Blood with such constituents it was deficient of, in these conditions of system, and to give it the necessary tone and strength to hold its natural constituents in solution. Dr. RADWAY'S theory was published in England, France, Germany, and America, and was seized upon by the scientific men of both hemispheres. From his text medical books have been since published by medical writers claiming to have discovered the cause of Consumption, but have failed to produce the remedy to cure. Dr. RADWAY was the first to advance this theory, and the first and only discoverer of a medicine that will cure. In RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT the public have a remedial agent that will cure Consumption and all diseases of the LUNGS, BRONCHIAL, KIDNEYS, BLADDER, WOMB, THROAT, GLANDS, AND URINARY ORGANS.

In all Wasting Discharges, such as Involuntary Loss of Sperm, Emissions, Weakness of the Genital Glands, Leuchorrœa, and all Uterine difficulties, Gravel, Lime Stone, Brick dust, Uric Acid, and Urinous Concretions, the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT is a positive cure. In Dropsy, Diabetes, uncured Venereal, Syphilis in its many forms, it cures when all other medicines fail.

EVERY DAY

an increase of flesh, weight, and strength is experienced. It is Fat-tissue, Caloric or Heat making. It is to the blood what oxygen is to the atmospheric air, it supplies the life principle. It swiftly removes from the surface all Spots, Blemishes, Pimples, Tetters, Rash, Flesh Worms, Sores, &c., imparting a

A Standard Remedy.

Such a remedy is Dr. Tobias Venetian Liniment. It has stood before the public for 22 years, and has never failed giving satisfaction in a single instance. Every drop of this valuable compound is mixed by Dr. Tobias himself, therefore it can always be relied on. It is warranted superior to any other for the cure of chronic rheumatism, toothache, headache, sore throat, vomiting, frosted feet, mumps, croup, burns, cuts sea sickness, insect stings, sprains, cholera, colic, spasms, dysentery, colds, swellings, pains in the limbs, back and chest. There is no medicine in the world that stands more on its own merits than the Venetian Liniment. Thousands of certificates are seen at the doctor's office attesting to its rare virtues. Sold by all druggists and storekeepers, through the United States. Price 50 cents and $1 per bottle. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York. 358.4w

Scrofula Cured by Brandreth's Pills.

Brandreth's pills penetrate the whole mass of blood, causing the expulsion of impurities. The body feels relieved from a single dose; what then may be expected from twenty from twenty? By continuing their use, the whole of the blood in time becomes purified, and the body reconstructed from good material, and a new lease of life secured.

Sing Sing, March 25, 1868.

My Dear Sir: My daughter Alice, thirteen years old, has been completely cured of that horrible disease, scrutula, which for years rendered life a torment; after all medicines and many physicians had been tried, and failed, I commenced giving her your pills. She took them almost every day constantly improving. She has now entirely recovered.

Yours truly, D. LUTHER.

HON. B. BRANDRETH.

Eternal Vigilance

Is the price of health as well as liberty. Be on your guard against dangerous dyes.

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

Is the only one which has stood the test of chemical analysis. At the store of the proprietor, 6 Astor House, New York, may be seen the certificate of that able analytical chemest, testifying that it contains no harmful ingredient. On the other hand, in the Journal of Chemestry may be found the statement that there are upwards of thirty poisonous hair eyes before the public. Choose the only safe and sure one.

PROF. CHILTON,

Cristadoro's Hair preservative, as a dressing, acts like a charm on the hair after dyeing. Try it.

C. F. GALTON'S

DYSPEPSIA REMEDY.

In offering this remedy to the public, we feel confident that every statement we make in regard to its curative properties will be fully verified by all who avail themselves of it. The prescription has been used in this city nearly ten years, and has never failed to effect a permanent cure whenever used in accordance with the directions, and the patient has had sufficient strength of mind to abstain from rich and indigestible food for a short time. In cases of Heartburn, Waterbrash, Constipation, and Nervous Headache, arising from imperfect digestion, and all ailments which are produced from an abuse of that important organ, the stomach, it will afford permanent relief.

As an evidence that our statements can be fully relied upon, we refer the reader to the certificates below:

"For a number of years I was greatly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and although my stomach craved food, it would immediately reject it, should I eat anything, no matter how small the quantity. I was frequently compelled to leave the table without being able to take any nourishment. In a short time I became very much reduced in flesh, and was so weak that I was unable and unfit to attend to my business. My mind was in no better condition than my body, as I was continually oppressed with lassitude and depression of spirits. I used all the patent medicines and prescriptions that I heard of, and some of these afforded me temporary relief, but in a short time I relapsed into my former condition.

"While suffering in this manner I heard of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and concluded to try it. I had taken it but a short time when I began to feel relief, and continuing to take it as I could partake of my meals without any disagreeable feeling, either while at the table or afterwards, and gained flesh rapidly. It is now nearly ten years since, and I have continued free from anything like a return of the Dyspepsia—I therefore cheerfully recommend it to any one suffering as like manner.

"Respectfully yours. ANDREW J. NICHOLSON.
"PITTSBURGH, March 20, 1869."

"This is to certify, that during the early part of the summer of 1868 my wife was afflicted with Dyspepsia. She had been complaining for a long time, her appetite was variable, and at times quite fallow. After having used two bottles of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, her appetite became good, she was relieved from the severe pain in her side, and her complexion became clear and fair, all of which I attribute to the use of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and I have recommended it to all my friends and acquaintances, and shall continue to do so, as I consider it the best remedy I ever saw for the purpose for which it is recommended. You can rest assured of the above statement. JAMES A. SMITH.
"PITTSBURGH, PA."

If you are suffering do not hesitate to buy a bottle of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and avail yourself of its curative properties.

Shaking and Burning.

It is not necessary to journey from the tropics to Alaska in order to experience the extremes of heat and cold. Thousands undergo all the inconveniences of this thermometrical change every day or every other day, as the case may be, without the trouble of moving over the threshold. A word with these involuntary shakers. What are they doing to expediate their return to a medium temperature?—to break the chills and banish the fever? Are they dosing themselves with quinine, thereby imperilling the soundness of their bones and impairing the vigor of their brains and nervous system? Some of them are no doubt, but not the majority of them it is believed. The value of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a harmless and certain specific for fever and ague is understood and appreciated in all parts of the country where intermittents prevail. The residents of such localities begin to take it early in the spring as a protection against the miasma by which they are surrounded; not all of them, perhaps, for a blind adherence to error is the speciality with some people, but the greater number.

If there is any fixed fact in therapeutics, it is this: that the Bitters are a far better safeguard against all the varieties of periodic maladies produced by unwholesome exhalations than any drug or compound in the materia medica of the profession. This assertion is made with all due respect to the faculty, but being an important truth, and one that nearly concerns the health of large settlements in various parts of the country, and indeed of the public at large, is made fearlessly, founded on ample and unimpeachable testimony, it defies disproval.

To break up chills and fevers, as well as to prevent them, there is nothing so reliable as this wholesome vegetable restorative.

DYSPEPSIA.

THE

Medical Properties Possessed by

BELTZHOOVER'S

Dyspeptic Bitters

Are fully attested by the certificates of well known gentlemen who have tested their virtues. Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Ague, General debility, and similar diseases are totally eradicated from the system by their use, while as a blood purifier and appetizer, they are unapproachable.

Dr S Beltzhoover, Scully & Co., the proprietors of these bitters, are manufacturing them extensively at their establishment, No. 77 Third avenue, Pittsburgh, and are prepared to fill all orders that may be sent to them.

At this season of the year the human system is generally in a debilitated condition and a tonic is necessary for the preservation of health. The Dyspeptic bitters are strongly recommended for their tonical virtues, and many persons are deriving great benefit from their use. These bitters are the best in the market, and are being generally adopted by our citizens.

THE HAPPY BIRDS.

BY LAWRENCE KEFOWLER.

oh how pleas-ant it Is to see birds fly from bush to tree when all are busy whith thir builes and feet each one builds his nest so pretty and neat the birds love to worbel forth thir songs all thir life when they live long they never do no harm wher ever they may be oh let them live in this world happy and free
In the fields and trees they have thir home this Is where the mother-bird loves to rome they sing all summer till winter comes nye then one and all will bid us good bye the bird say I'll not sing no more—Sing till the open-ning of next Spring.

Massillon, May 15, 1870.

IMMIGRATION ON BOTH SIDES OF THE CONTINENT.

Over nine thousand emigrants arrived at New York from Europe last week. We learn, too, that the Pacific mail steamer Japan, which arrived at San Francisco last Friday, brought fourteen hundred passengers, thirteen hundred of whom were Chinese emigrants. Thus the tide of population is swelling on both sides of the continent. Let the people come. There is room enough, cheap land enough, plenty of well paid employment and abundant resources for all. The United States can sustain a population of four or five hundred millions. Nor need there be any fear of admitting the various nationalities and races. We can mould them to our institutions and make them useful in developing and increasing the wealth of the country. The prospect is that within twenty years this country will be the most populous of all the civilized of the world, and that there are many men living who will see a hundred millions of inhabitants in the United States.—N. Y. Herald.

It takes a grate deal ov money tew make a man rich, but it don't take but little virtew.

SPOTS ON THE SUN.—These spots were carefully examined recently, at the Boston observatory. There were nine or ten clusters, two of them of an enormous length; one of them was quite narrow, but stretched quite a quarter across the sun, or at least 200,000 miles. The other is of the shape of an irregular square, and in length and breadth is at least 100,000 miles. Three of the single spots were also very large; one of them was estimated as three times as large as the earth.

On the election of Mr. Wigfall to represent Texas in the United States Senate, Gov. Houston was asked in allusion to the excessively intemperate habits of the senator elect whether he thought Wigfall would be able to make his way to Washington.

'I rather think he will" replied Mr. Houston, 'if he avoids Cincinnati?'

'What do you mean governor, by avoiding Cincinnati?'

'Why, sir, the strychnine in the whisky there will kill any dog?'

If a dandy, with a cigar between his fingers, asks you if smoking is offensive to you tell him, emphatically, yes. The habit should be, even though the odor may not.

'No man can do anything against his will,' said a metaphysician to an Irishman. 'Be jabers!' said Pat, 'I had a brother that wint to jail, and I know it was against his will.'

'Leave you, my friend,' said a tipsy fellow, clinging to a lamp-post on a dark night, 'leave you in a condition not fit to take care of yourself! Hic, never.'

'How much water do you put in your milk?' asked a Pittsfield, Mass., man of a boy who delivers milk on one of the milk routes. 'We don't put any water in it,' replied the boy. 'What do you put in it then?' 'Ice!' said the candid youth.

An intelligent gentleman from Germany, on his first visit to an American church, had a contribution box with a hole in the top presented to him, and he whispered to the collector: 'I don't got mein bapers, unt can't vote.'

MRS. S. A. ALLEN

MRS. ALLEN'S

Hair Restorer & Zylobalsamum

Are so uniformly grateful and beneficial, that they are with justice called the natural strengtheners of the human hair. They are two entirely separate and distinct preparations, not to be used together at one time.

Mrs. Allen's Hair Restorer

Never fails to satisfy the most refined and cultivated. A guarantee goes with every bottle, that it will quickly restore gray or white hair to its original youthful beauty, gloss and color; after its use a few times the hair will grow thicker and stronger. It will stop its falling and induce a healthy and luxuriant growth. It is an exquisite hair dressing, agreeable, harmless and healthy. Entirely different from most other preparations for the hair, its composition and ingredients are nourishing, giving life and vigor to the Roots.

Mrs. Allen's Zylobalsamum

This exquisite preparation is free from any sediment, and is a toilet treasure. The urgent want of a simple Hair Dressing, for the youth of both sexes, first induced the manufacture of the Zylobalsamum, and the sale of it is perfectly immense, not only in this country, but in Europe.

EXTRACTS FROM A FEW LETTERS.

"Your Zylobalsamum is used by every member, young and old, of our family, and we consider it invaluable. Should any gray hairs appear, we shall try your Hair Restorer, which we hear very highly spoken of."

"Father and mother use your Hair Restorer, and are delighted with it. It soon restored their gray locks to their youthful color, but daughters and son still find in the Zylobalsamum all their hair requires."

From the Principal of one of our large Female Seminaries: "Your Zylobalsamum has been used for many years by myself and family, and is the favorite among our young ladies."

$30 Hinkley Knitting Machine. $30

The most perfect machine yet invented. Will widen and narrow, turn a heel, or point the toe. It will knit plain or ribbed. It will knit stockings, drawers, shirts, hoods, comforters, mittens. It is cheap simple and durable. It sets up its own work, uses but one needle, and requires no adjusting whatever. It will do the same work that the Lamb machine will do, and costs less than half as much, and has not the tenth part of the machinery to get out of order. Circulars and samples mailed free on application. Agents wanted. All machines guaranteed.

This is no patent medicine humbug, gotten up to dupe the ignorant and credulous, nor is it represented as being "composed of rare and precious substances brought from the four corners of the earth, carried seven times across the Great Desert of Sahara on the backs of fourteen camels, and brought across the Atlantic Ocean on two Ships." It is a simple, mild, soothing Remedy, a perfect Specific for Catarrh and "Cold in the head," also for offensive Breath. Loss or Impairment of the Sense of smell, Tast or Hearing, Watering or Weak Eyes, Pain or Pressure in the Head, when caused, as they all not unfrequently are, by the violence of Catarrh.

We offer, in good faith, a standing Reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh that we cannot cure.

For Sale By Most Druggists Everywhere. Price 50 cts.

Sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of Sixty Cents. Four packages for $2,00 or 1 dozen for $5,00.
